What the venue and planner prepare for Allegra Chamber Bali. It applies to every formation, and the details are confirmed for each venue before the day.

Power

- One 220V power outlet within 5 m of the piano position. We bring our own extension cable.
- Strings play unamplified and need no power, so a solo violin or cello needs none at all.

Prepared by the venue, coordinated by the planner

- A chair for each musician. Armless chairs for the string players.
- One music stand per musician.
- A keyboard stand for the piano.
- A flat, stable, dry spot for the ensemble, shaded if it sits in the sun.

Sound and amplification

- Allegra does not bring a PA or sound system. When amplification is needed, it comes from the venue's or planner's sound provider.
- We share this rider with the sound provider in advance and agree the connection details with them directly.

Timing and run sheet

- Call time is set for each venue with the planner, so setup is finished before the first guest is seated.
- Please share the run sheet before the day. Song cues are agreed with the planner at the briefing.
- A contact person on site for load-in.
- The formation can differ between sessions, for example a Trio for the ceremony and solo piano for dinner.

Outdoor and weather

- If rain comes, musicians and instruments move to a covered, sheltered spot agreed in advance with the planner or venue. The safety of musicians and instruments comes first.
